

Departmental Database Solution for QUEST

Asif Illahi Jamali (G.L), Mehak Khanzada (A.G.L), Sajid Hussain (Member), Riffat Fatima (Member)

Supervised by:

Zuhaib A. Shaikh, Lecturer, CSE department, QUEST, Nawabshah

Abstract:

Quaid-e-Awam University of Engineering science and technology having many records regarding students and the organization and it is very difficult to handle such a huge record and access is time consuming and inefficient.

This thesis provides a solution which manages the departmental information effectively. The solution and the information it generates are generally considered essential components of prudent and reasonable organizational decisions.

It is planned system of the collecting, processing, storing and disseminating data in the form of information needed to carry out the functions of the organization. It contains advanced features and by adopting this system, it will create lot of easiness and efficiency for the managements of Quaid-e-Awam University of Engineering Science & Technology. This tool is developed in VB .Net and MS Access for any operating system like as Windows/2000/XP/NT. The main object of this software is to provide secure institutional services.